Fox Glacier Guiding - Fox Glacier Helihike (Flying Fox)

Address: Hobnail Cafe and Shop
Fox Glacier

Phone: 03 751 0825

Reference: XXX

Check in: XXX

Please check-in to the Fox Glacier Guiding office which is well signposted in the Fox Glacier Village at XXX for your XXX heli-hike. Your heli-hike has been pre-paid; please present your activity voucher when you check-in.

The fly-in, fly-out heli-hike combines the excitement of walking on the Fox Glacier with the thrill of helicopter flights. By flying in you are able to access and explore a part of the glacier that is otherwise very difficult to get to. It is here, shunted between two ice falls, that the awesome glacier forces work hardest and often create spectacular ice caves and arches.

This trip includes:

- Two helicopter flights
- Guide
- Ground transport
- Leather boots
- Socks
- Crampons

Please bring:

- 3 - 4 layers of warm upper body clothing (jeans are not recommended on wet days, as they become very cold and uncomfortable to wear).
- Sunglasses and sun protection.
- A daypack, a drink and snacks are useful.
- A warm hat and gloves.

After your helihike you will drive from Fox Glacier to Wanaka. The approximate time to travel this distance is 3 hr 45 min (264 km). Please refer to the map included in your documentation for the route we recommend you travel. There are very few towns on the way so we suggest you fill with petrol at Fox Township and pack some supplies with you, water, snacks etc as there are very few places to stop.

If time permits, you may be able to see penguins at Monro Beach near Lake Moeraki. Look out for the signs off SH 6 as you head south between Lake Paringa and Haast. An easy 40minute walk through coastal forest will take you to the remote beach where between July and December Fiordland crested penguin may be seen in the surf and on the beach.

Driving through the Haast Pass

The Haast Pass road follows an ancient trail used by Maori travelling to the West Coast in search of pounamu/greenstone/jade/nephrite. The name for the trail is Tiora-patea, meaning "The way is clear". The Haast Pass is the lowest across the Main Divide (563 metres above sea level).

A gold prospector called Charles Cameron is considered to be the first European to find the pass. He went alone to the West Coast wanting to reach there by the most direct route from Dunedin, and crossed the pass in January 1863. He buried his powder flask to the west of the pass. Close behind him came Julius von Haast. His party of five found the journey very difficult with constant rain and flooded rivers which slowed their progress and led to a shortage of food. Haast named the pass after himself and claimed to be the first European to have travelled through it, but the discovery of Cameron's flask discredited this claim.

Now with a sealed road travel through the pass offers easy motoring and there are a number of well-marked walks along the way.

Roaring Billy - the walk to these falls takes 25 minutes return, but it is well worth taking the time as there are interesting ferns along the track. At the end of the track there is a good view of the falls across the Haast River.

Thunder Creek Falls - a 2-minute walk (wheelchair access) through silver beech-podocarp rainforest just below the Gates of Haast Bridge, for a view of a 28 metre waterfall. Also regularly seen in this area are Kea, Kaka and other bird life.

Bridle Track - a well graded walk (1.5 hours one way) through beech forest following an old packhorse track between Haast Pass and Davis Flat. This track used to be used regularly in 1880's, and only a little imagination is required to envisage how tough conditions were for those travelling this route back then.

Cameron Creek- a 10-minute walk one way through mountain silver beech forest to a lookout and views of Makarora Valley (70 km from Wanaka).

Blue Pools - a 15-minute walk one way through silver beech forest to crystal-clear pools in the Blue River. Swing bridge over the Makarora River (70 km from Wanaka).

From Wanaka to Queenstown, there are two options; you can either travel over the Crown Range on State highway 89 (60 minutes) which affords fabulous views, or if you would prefer to take a flatter but longer route (90 minutes), you can travel via Bendigo and the Kawarau Gorge.

This route takes you out of Wanaka on State Highway 6 and was once one of the most successful mining areas in the Otago region. There is a 20 minute walk exploring the old mine region – ensure you stay to the track as some of the shafts can be as deep as 160m and can be quite hidden from view.

Continuing on this route to get to Queenstown you will pass by the Goldfields Mining centre, where you can try your luck panning for gold in the Kawarau Gorge. The Kawarau Swing Bridge is also the location of the first ever commercial bungy jump world wide – just in case you are feeling like a rush of adrenalin!

Both of these routes have been marked on the map included in your documentation for these routes.
